Parents worry about their kids' apprehensions in moving

Posted Friday, Jul. 30, 2010

A Rent.com survey found that 69 percent of families who responded have moved to a new home at least once during their children's lifetime, and 18 percent have moved three or more times. Fifty-four percent of parents worry about how their children feel about the move, the survey showed. Thirty-four percent of children want their own bedrooms, 27 percent wish for a neighborhood with other kids their own age, and 25 percent pine for a big back yard, Rent.com said.
